Type of Instruction

The teaching consists of lectures, cases and computer exercises. Obligatory parts are stated in the schedule.

Examination

The course is assessed with the grades A, B, C, D, E, Fx or F.

Examination on the course consists of an individual closed-book exam and practical computer exercises.

The grade A constitutes the highest grade on the scale and the remaining grades follow in descending order where the grade E is the lowest grade on the scale that will result in a pass. The grade F means that the student's performance is assessed as fail.

After each regular examination there will be at least one new examination in close proximity to the date the results of the regular exam were posted. A minimum of five occasions for written exams will be offered in relation to the syllabus to which the student was accepted. Usually three occasions per academic year are offered.

Students that fail the computer exercise can complement after instructions from the examiner to obtain a pass grade. A computer exercise can only be complemented one time, then examination of the computer exercise will be offered the next time the course is given.

Grading criteria for the A–F scale are communicated in writing to the student by the start of the course/module at the latest.

Course Evaluation

During the implementation of the course or in close connection to the course a course evaluation is to be carried out. Result and analysis of the course evaluation is to be presented as feedback both to the students who have completed the course and to the students who are to participate on the course the next time it is offered. The course evaluation is to be carried out anonymously.

Credit Overlap

The course cannot be included in a degree along with the following courses of which the content fully, or partly, corresponds to the content of this course: The course overlaps the courses 1FE193:1, 1FE870:1, 1FE864, 1FE911 and 1FE934 with 100 % each.
