Prerequisites

General entry requirements for university studies.

Objectives

Upon completion of the course, students should be able to:

- define and operationalize different aspects of the theoretical concept of safety,
- account for the meaning of the most common terms used in surveys,
- account for how data quality may be assessed,
- suggest feasible safety ensuring measures based on community safety surveys.

Content

The course forms the basis of knowledge-based community safety work. Different data collection methods used in observational studies are studied in the course, as well as the design of questionnaires, statistical methods of selection, non-response analyses and basic statistical analysis methods based on a perspective of practices.

Type of Instruction

Teaching takes place in the form of lectures, seminars and exercises.

Examination

The course is assessed with the grades Fail (U), Pass (G) or Pass with Distinction (VG).

Examination of the course takes place by means of a written exam and a paper. In order to receive a grade of Pass, the course objectives must be attained. For a final grade of Pass with Distinction, it is required that both examinations are assessed as Pass with Distinction.

A retake of the examination is provided in accordance with the Local Regulations for First-Cycle and Second-Cycle Courses and Examination at Linnaeus University.

Should the university determine that a student is entitled to special educational support due to impairment, the examiner may provide the student with an adapted test or the student may carry out the examination in an alternative way.

Course Evaluation

A course evaluation is carried out either during or at the end of the course. Results and analysis of the evaluation are presented to the students who have completed the course as well as to new students at the following course date. The course evaluation is conducted anonymously.

Credit Overlap

The course cannot be included in a degree along with the following courses of which the content fully, or partly, corresponds to the content of this course: 1PA13U, 1PA100, 1KP100 with the same course name, 7.5 credits
