- account for basic intermedial issues and research fields,
- explain and discuss the intermedial relation in and between different media products.

Content

The course offers an introduction to study the relationship between text, image and sound in mediated communication. Based on a couple of theoretical approaches the course discusses the relationship between different media such as literature, film, music and digital media in digital poetry, film adaptations, comics and picture books, as well as the representation of media in literature. Intermedial relations between media are discussed both from a historical perspective and with examples from today's media culture.

Type of Instruction

Teaching is delivered in the form of lectures and practical exercises, individually and in groups.

Examination

The course is assessed with the grades Fail (U), Pass (G) or Pass with Distinction (VG).

The course is examined through written and oral tests. In order to receive the grade of Pass, the student must achieve the objectives. Grading criteria for the grade of Pass with Distinction will be specified when the course starts.

Resit examination is offered in accordance with Local regulations for courses and examination at the first and second-cycle level at Linnaeus University. In the event that a student with a disability is entitled to special study support, the examiner will decide on adapted or alternative examination arrangements.
