Expected learning outcomes

This course will guide you through the rules regarding international commercial law and European law. You will acquire a practically workable knowledge of international purchase agreement, international payment, risks regarding transport, international insurance and the rules relating to the inner market of EU.

Knowledge and understanding

- Find and analyze legal material within international contract and purchase law
- Describe international private law and European law
- Explain and investigate the distribution of the risks and the damages in a commercial relation
- Identify legal problems and apply legal methods in order to solve these

Content

This course starts with a fundamental survey of the inner market of European Union. It will continue with an outline of the essential rules regarding international private law. Furthermore, the international commercial laws concerning business contracts will be illuminated. The risks in international commercial business will be analyzed. This includes both contract concerning purchase and services.

Type of Instruction

The course consists of lectures and group exercises.

Assessment of the student's attainments is carried out by means of written examinations.

Examination

The course is assessed with the grades Fail (U), Pass (G) or Pass with Distinction (VG).

The grading is based on assessment of the written exams, reports and the student's ability to present and discuss report contents. Results are graded using one of the terms Passed with distinction, Pass or Fail, and A-F according to the ECTS scale.

Students who do not achieve a satisfactory result in the examinations are permitted to make a second attempt approximately 5-8 weeks after the normal examination date. The student will have a minimum of five occasions for written exams in relation to the syllabus to which the student was accepted. Usually 3 occasions per academic year.

Course Evaluation

A written evaluation is conducted and compiled in a report, which is filed at the department. The result and actions, if taken, are communicated to the teacher responsible for the course and presented to the students in the way most appropriate according to the teacher responsible for the course. Other types of evaluations, such as continuous during the course or oral communication with the students, can occur and is encouraged to secure continuous quality improvement.
