Objectives

Overall objectives

After completing the course, the student should be able to:

- account for current Swedish migration policies and aspects of cultural encounters,
- describe language acquisition from the perspective of second-language learning from different theoretical perspectives.

Module 1. Migration and cultural encounters, 7.5 credits

After completing the module, the student should be able to:

- account for causes for and effects of migration, specifically immigration to

- Sweden, primarily after World War II,
- account for changes in Swedish immigration and integration policies from historical and contemporary perspectives,
 - account for how culture and religion may affect people's view of the child and child-rearing,
 - apply didactic perspectives on an intercultural approach to how to act with regard to multilingual pupils in Swedish preschools.

Module 2. Language, language acquisition and second-language teaching 7.5 credits

After completing the module, the student should be able to:

- account for basic concepts within second language research,
- describe multilingual pupils' possibilities for language development,
- compare and problematise different theories on first and second language development in speech and writing,
- apply theories on language development in the design of pedagogical activities supporting second language development in preschool, relative to the policy documents.

Content

Module 1. Migration and cultural encounters, 7.5 credits

In this module focus lies on knowledge about, and an understanding of, people's different living conditions, especially as regards the view of family and child-rearing. Other issues covered in the module include different cultural patterns and their impact on communication in a multicultural society, and the relation between ethnic and religious affiliation and its impact on individuals' identity development. Swedish immigration and integration policies, along with reasons for migration and its political, legal, economic, and social consequences, are studied from a historical as well as a contemporary perspective. How to approach multilingual pupils in Swedish schools is another central issue. Students read a number of fiction works (written for children as well as for adults) on migration and seeking refuge. The educator's work in the multicultural school is discussed and problematised.

Module 2. Language acquisition and second-language teaching, 7.5 credits

In this module the students get the opportunity to develop basic knowledge about language, preschool children's language development and teaching multilingual preschool children. Different theoretical perspectives on multilingualism and language development are discussed. Basic sociolinguistics is introduced. The module also introduces the didactics of second language teaching in preschool, through discussions of different ways of teaching and working with multilingual pupils, on the basis of current policy documents for the preschool and the preschool class.

Type of Instruction

Teaching is delivered in the form of lectures, group discussions and seminar exercises. The course is offered as a web-based part-time course, using an online learning platform, without any compulsory physical meetings.

Examination

The course is assessed with the grades Fail (U), Pass (G) or Pass with Distinction (VG).

In order to receive the grade of Pass, the student must achieve the objectives. Grading criteria for the grade of Pass with Distinction will be specified in writing when the course starts.

Both modules are examined through an individual room exam and oral and written assignments.

Module 1 includes the following examinations: Cultural encounters (2.0 credits), Religions in Sweden (2.0 credits), and Migration from historical and societal perspectives (3.5 credits).

Module 2 includes the following examinations: Second language development and second language teaching: take-home exam (6 credits) and Second language development and teaching: Oral and written presentations (1.5 credits).

In order to receive the grade of Pass with Distinction for the whole course, the student must have received this grade for both modules.

If the university has decided that a student has the right to special educational support due to a disability, the examiner may offer an adapted test or allow the student to conduct the test in an alternative form.

For students who do not pass their first examinations, retake examinations are provided in accordance with Local regulations for courses and examinations at the first and second levels at Linnaeus University.

Course Evaluation

During or shortly after the course, a course evaluation is conducted. Results and analysis of the course evaluation are promptly communicated to the students who have taken the course. Students who are taking the course when it is offered the next time are informed of the results at the start of the course. The evaluation is anonymous.

Credit Overlap

The course cannot be included in a degree along with the following course/courses of which the content fully, or partly, corresponds to the content of this course: The course overlaps completely with 1FL028, 15 credits, and largely with 1SS121, 15 credits and modules 1 and 2 in 1SS120, 15 credits, at Linnaeus University.
