Type of Instruction

The teaching consists of lectures and seminars. Participation is required at seminars where assignments are processed and presented. The dates for mandatory course parts are shown in the schedule.

Examination

The course is assessed with the grades A, B, C, D, E, Fx or F.

The course is examined through a report and course paper.

The grade A constitutes the highest grade on the scale and the remaining grades follow in descending order where the grade E is the lowest grade on the scale that will result in a pass. The grade F means that the student's performance is assessed as fail. Grading criteria for the A–F scale are communicated in writing to the student by the start of the course at the latest, as well as how the weighting and weighting of grades on individual examining elements to the final course grade takes place. The basis for the student's grade is determined by the student's fulfillment of the objectives.

Repeat examination is offered in accordance with Local regulations for courses and examination at the first and second-cycle level at Linnaeus University. Students who are close to the passing grade of reports can complement after instructions and time-frame given by the examiner to obtain a pass grade.

If the university has decided that a student is entitled to special pedagogical support due to a disability, the examiner has the right to give a customised exam or to have the student conduct the exam in an alternative way.

Course Evaluation

During the course or in close connection to the course, course evaluation is conducted. The results and analysis of the course evaluation must be promptly given back to the students who completed the course. Students who participate at the next course occasion are informed about previous feedback at the start of the course. Course evaluation is carried out anonymously.

Other

If English is the language of instruction, the associated examination is in English too.
