Prerequisites

General entry requirements for second-cycle studies and specific entry requirements as follows:

- Degree of Bachelor in sociology or the equivalent
- Swedish 3/B and English 5/A or the equivalent
- 30 credits in second-cycle studies in sociology or the equivalent

Objectives

Upon completion of the course, students shall be able to:

- reflect critically on and compare the opportunities and limitations of the institutional perspectives in applied research
- apply concepts and key theoretical ideas in a specific field of research within institutional perspectives
- conduct a critical analysis of a chosen field of research within institutional perspectives.

Content

The course discusses the intellectual heritage from institutional theory of organisations and how institutional perspectives develop and change over time. Focus is placed on fundamental ideas, key concepts and empirical application. The course also highlights the challenges and limitations within the early institutional theory, which have contributed to its progress within research in the sociology of organisations. Theoretical ideas and empirical studies under development within institutional perspectives are also discussed.

Type of Instruction

Teaching takes place in the form of lectures and seminars.

Examination

The course is assessed with the grades Fail (U), Pass (G) or Pass with Distinction (VG).

Examination of the course takes place by means of a written individual assignment with peer review.

In order to receive a grade of Pass in the course, the course objectives must be attained. For a grade of Pass with Distinction in the course, it is required that the written assignment is assessed as Pass with Distinction.

A retake of the examination is provided in accordance with the Local Regulations for First-cycle and Second-cycle Courses and Examination at Linnaeus University.

Should the university determine that a student has the right to special educational support due to impairment, the examiner may provide the student with an adapted test or the student may carry out the examination in an alternative way.

Course Evaluation

A course evaluation is carried out either during or at the end of the course. Results and analysis are presented to the students who have completed the course as well as to new students at the following course date. The course evaluation is conducted anonymously.
